NUMBER 10 VOTERS LIST BEING PREPARED-

When the picture of this season's first bale of cotton did not get back in time for publication Wednesday, it was a simple matter to reach in the files and bring out the photo used last fall. It was a case of the "same song, second verse. Dick Hodge, Charles Driggers and Robert Stephens did it again. Ginned at Morrow Gin & Peanut Company's stand, the bale weighed 428 pounds and brought $171.20 at 40c per pound. Seed brought $15.20 for a total price on 1956's first bale of $186.30. (Clipper) $5,000, the mayor said.
